

EMBEZZLER'S THEFTS REACH $33,000

Police Ready to Arrest Cashier of Steamship Company.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 12.—Charging the specific embezzlement of $7478.62, but declaring that the total misappropriations of the accused will aggregate $33,000, a warrant was issued for the arrest of George W. Jorgenson, cashier of the Togo Kaisha Kaisha Steamship Company, shortly after noon today. Police Judge Oppenheim fixed the bail at the unprecedented amount of $100,000 bond. Jorgenson was booked at the city prison shortly before 2 o'clock. He would make no statement, referring interviewers to his counsel, Attorney A. F. Newburg.

"There has been a mistake somewhere," Newburg declared. "There is no embezzlement, and I believe my client will be able to establish his innocence at any proper time."

Fearing that Jorgenson might attempt to flee, William A. Avery, manager of the San Francisco office of the company, asked for the large bond, and intimated that additional charges would be preferred against Jorgenson.

Immediately after the issuance of the warrant Detective Fred Kracke left police headquarters for the Jorgenson home at 2214 Taylor street, to arrest the cashier. Jorgenson has been under the guard of detectives employed by the United States Fidelity and Guarantee Company since the first of the year.

Atty. General, accompanied by his counsel, Attorney Samuel Knight, visited the bond and warrant commission necessary for the issuance of the complaint, after which he went immediately into Judge Oppenheimer's court. It is believed that Jorgenson will be unable to furnish the $100,000 bond or the $50,000 cash required.

Attorney A. S. Newburgh, counsel for Jorgenson, will immediately attempt to obtain his client's release in the superior court on the ground that he is being held without cause.

Jorgenson is charged with making false entries in his book, the alleged defalcations going back for a period of three years. Experts have just concluded an exhaustive research and have estimated that the defalcations will be approximately correct. The sum of $1478.52 represents a specific amount taken at a certain time.

Human Bones Found In Factory's Fire Box

By Associated Press.

SAGINAW, Mich., Jan. 13.—An expert's report indicating that ashes taken from beneath a boiler firebox were those of human bones led to the issuance of a warrant today charging Charles Kimbrough, a negro, with the murder of eight-year-old Rose Fernier, who disappeared from her grandmother's home January 2.

Kimbrough is a choir leader in one of the churches here and has been detained by the police since January 5. He protests he is innocent.

The ashes were taken from the firebox at the plant where Kimbrough was employed. They were examined by Professor R. E. McCotter of the University of Michigan.

SOLONS PONDER ON REVENUE BILL

BAGBY CONTEST IS CAUSE OF FIGHT IN HOUSE

Committee Report, Though Unanimous, Is Rejected on Floor.

By Associated Press. SACRAMENTO, Jan. 13.—Opposition to the report of the committee on the revenue bill, which recommended that Assemblyman Ira E. Kramer of Santa Barbara be permitted to retain his seat in the lower house today. The contest was not by a majority of six, as was the case in the Assembly district.

Before the report was put to a vote, Assemblyman Carr, representative of Pacific, introduced a resolution calling for a recess in the contest. Speaking on his resolution, Carr said he thought it was only fair to both Kramer and Bagby that the latter be sent for and the contest be given further consideration.

Members of the committee, including Chairman McKnight, declined their report and sought to have it adopted. Postponement of action on the Carr resolution until tomorrow was gained, however, by motion of Assemblyman Henry Ward Brown. Fifty-five members voted in favor of the postponement.

The discussion over the report was the first suggestion of "rings" in the proceedings of the lower house has seen this session and it was evident from the fight on the floor that the report will meet with further resistance tomorrow.

Senate Hears Grant's Attorney on Contest in Half-Hour Session

By Associated Press. SACRAMENTO, Jan. 13.—Business exceedingly brief and small was done by the Senate today. The session was adjourned for the day within thirty minutes. Thirty-six bills, none of them considered of particularly great importance, were introduced.

The Senate committee on investigation of the contest of Grant for the seat of Senator Wolfe met and listened to technical arguments by the attorney of Grant. Discussion of the particular features of Grant's contest to which the committee will address its inquiry occupied most of the committee's attention.

Representatives of the telegraph and telephone corporations whose tax rate it is proposed to raise were making early in the day through corridors and lobbies of the capitol and local hotels, waiting for the public hearing on the bill for revenue on revenue and taxation set for 2 p. m.

State Tax on Saloons Proposed by Senator To Wipe Out Deficit

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 13.—Taxation of saloons to wipe out the impending state deficit and to regulate the liquor traffic is being strenuously advocated by Senator W. E. Brown of Los Angeles. "As a matter of plain business it is my opinion that the saloons should be taxed to help offset the state deficit," Senator Brown said. "Just note these figures. California has a population of 3,000,000. All lawlessness can be traced to the liquor traffic. Therefore, the liquor traffic is responsible for about $30,000,000 yearly of this expenditure.

"In taxes, California collects $3,000,000 per year from the liquor traffic, which leaves the saloons and liquor manufacturing plants still owing us about $27,000,000 per year. From this tax the liquor interest understands that it may readily be understood that the tax the liquor interest further would be no more than fair."

Senator Duneson of Butte, who represents a district that is largely dry, says that the liquor interests would be a rather uncertain source of revenue at all the time, and therefore might not be a good source to count upon for further taxation.

State School Board Urges Vocational and Continuation Courses

By Associated Press. SACRAMENTO, Jan. 13.—To equip the youth of California who are unable to obtain a university education with a useful occupation is the purpose of a bill completed by the State Board of Education for presentation to the Legislature. Courses in agricultural, industrial, trade, commercial, domestic and manual training are to be provided for the practical children and the high schools, the state to pay one-third of the cost.

In addition to vocational courses in the regular schools it is proposed to establish day continuation and evening vocational schools.

Several normal school presidents appeared before the board to urge a legislative measure that will put normal schools under the control of the state board of education. The measure would coordinate the courses with the rest of the state school system.

State officers of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union appeared before the board on behalf of a measure to restrict the sale of alcoholic beverages on the human system. No action was taken, but members of the board said informally after the meeting it was unlikely the board would make any official endorsement of the measure.

SLATER REFUSES TO AID USELESS BILLS

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 13.—Evidencing a disposition to hold down the total number of bills placed before the legislature this year, is the story told of Senator Slater of Sonoma.

Senator Slater received copies of six completely drawn bills from constituents, touching on subjects ranging from patented hen roosts to divorce. Ordinarily a senator introduces measures from his constituents "by request," as he is not willing to stand alone for them. But the batch of bills that came to Slater all were dumped into the waste basket.

He said he did not consider them of importance and did not want to burden the files with them.

BOND BILL UP AGAIN.

By Associated Press. SACRAMENTO, Jan. 13.—A bill calling upon the legislature to submit at the state-wide election of November, 1916, a proposition to vote for or against the issuance of $1,250,000 in state bonds for the purchase of a site and construction of a state building in Los Angeles was introduced today by Senator Brown. It is essentially the measure voted on by legislative last fall.

Capital Notes

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 13.—A rural credit system, planned after that of the German government and designed to allow interest rate on land at a low interest rate, is planned in a bill to be presented by Senator W. E. Brown of Los Angeles. This will allow ten men to form a bank in any district with $5000 each.

A supreme court clerk is joyful. A bill introduced by Senator Fred Gurnea of San Francisco provides for substantial increases in salaries for the state tribunal. The chief clerk will get $2700 per annum, and others in proportion, if the bill carries.

W. W. Harris, socialist, from Kern, has presented his anti-capital punishment bill. San Diego's goats are to be the butt of legislation. Grant Conrad has proposed a law confining goats to proper bounds, and the committee is arguing on what these goats should be.

Already a fight has been started against the proposal for a state employment bureau is made by Secretary George H. Bell of the immigration and housing commission.

A "Lay Children" bill is proposed by Stuckenbruck of San Joaquin. He would make it legal for parents to force full-grown children to work instead of supporting them, as the law now requires.

The bill providing for vocational instruction in the grammar schools of the state was urged today by the state board of control. The measure known as the Snyder bill, provides for such instruction in the seventh and eighth grades.

By Associated Press. SACRAMENTO, Jan. 13.—Construction of a state highway from Gilroy through Pacheco pass to the coast route to Califa, Mendocino county, is the aim of a bill by Senator Benson of San Jose. BAGBY LOSES CONTEST BY UNANIMOUS VOTE

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 13.—Holding that Dr. Bagby in his contest of the election of Ira E. Kramer, Santa Barbara, did not produce sufficient evidence to justify a recount of the vote, or a further investigation, the committee on election contests of the assembly late yesterday afternoon ruled unanimously against him, and recommended to the assembly the seating of Kramer.

The committee was composed of J. S. McKnight, Progressive, chairman; B. B. Meek, Democrat; W. R. Sharkey, Progressive; George Gelder, Progressive; R. E. Wills, Democrat; T. M. Wright, Republican; and C. C. Gosdell, Republican.

Bagby is a Democrat and Kramer a Progressive.

STATE WILL REFUND EXCESS TAXES PAID

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 13.—The firm of Miller and Lux wants the state to reimburse it to the extent of $26,712 alleged to have been overpaid in corporation taxes. To do this four bills were introduced by Assemblyman Paul Americh of Alameda, asking four separate appropriations representing four judgments in favor of the company in the courts of San Francisco.

One bill calls for $10,337.06; another $3007; the third, $10,206.27, and the fourth, $5667.47.

These amounts are listed under the head of reimbursements for excess taxes paid by the concern.

GLEN ELLEN FOR CHILDREN.

By Associated Press. SACRAMENTO, Jan. 13.—Assemblyman Widenmann of Vallejo will introduce a bill this week which will restrict the State Home for Feeble Minded at Glen Ellen to mentally deficient children. Because of the large number of adult feeble minded in the institution, young children requiring treatment are compelled to wait long periods before gaining admission, Widenmann plans to let the adults to state hospitals for the insane.

PEOPLE MAY VOTE ON POCKET VETO

Assemblyman Brown of San Mateo Offers Amendment to Constitution.

By Associated Press. SACRAMENTO, Jan. 13.—Wider power for the Legislature is advocated in a proposed constitutional amendment presented to the lower house today by Assemblyman Henry Ward Brown of San Mateo. His provisions affect indirectly the governor's power of veto.

It proposes to the people that all bills left unsigned in the Governor's hands at the expiration of thirty days following the adjournment of the Legislature be certified to the Secretary of State with the Governor's objections. These bills, in turn, would be referred to the next Legislature. If passed by a two-thirds vote of each house, the bill would then become law without the formality of the Governor's signature.

In event of a pocket veto, Assemblyman Brown said that 500 or more bills which the Governor left unsigned after the fall session, are now finding their way back to the houses again for reintroduction. This system, he said, is instrumental in the delay of the operation of the legislative machinery and adding to the work of the Senate and Assembly.

Under the constitution, all bills not signed by the Governor 30 days after adjournment are killed automatically.

Another provision of the proposed amendment is that if the Governor fails to sign a bill, the bill shall be referred to the Secretary of State, together with his objections, such bills shall then become laws without further procedure.

Professor Plehn Gives New Tax Schedule at Legislative Inquiry

By Associated Press. SACRAMENTO, Jan. 12.—The state's plan to increase its revenues by $1,350,000 a year through raising the rates on taxes for banks and other corporations taxed for state purposes was disclosed last night at the opening meeting of the joint committee on revenue and taxation.

Statements made by Professor Carl C. Plehn of the State University, expert for the board of equalization, indicate that in his opinion the plan of the corporations is paying less than the average rate for property at large, which has been estimated at $2.21 for each $100 of actual value. In order to bring the corporation taxes to their full share of the burden, he declared, the following increases should be made by the legislature:

Railroads, including street railroads, from 3.4 to 5.4 per cent of all their gross earnings.

Gas and electric companies, from 4.6 to 5.4 per cent of their gross earnings.

Telephone and telegraph companies, from 4.2 to 5.4 per cent of their gross earnings.

Insurance companies, from 3.4 to 5.4 per cent of their gross premiums.

Other corporations, from 1.2 to 2.2 per cent of the book value of the stock (i. e. capital, surplus and undivided profits).

Express companies and car companies will pay the same taxes as before under the plan.

Announcement of the foregoing increases in corporation taxes is the first step in meeting the prospective deficit of approximately $3,200,000 in the coming biennial period. If the new rates as proposed by the experts are settled upon by the legislature, the state will be able to meet its deficit without developing new sources of revenue.

BILL VIRTUALLY READY.

Senate leaders in holding the revenue legislation, said after last night's hearing they rather expected that these figures would be written into the bill and finally passed.

With the big railroads accepting the raise in their tax rates of approximately ten per cent without protest, an opinion became prevalent among the legislators that the other corporations would fall harmoniously into line and accept their raises.

"It's a fine thing to have the railroads accepting a raise in their tax rates with so much good grace—not very much like the old days," commented Senator Chandler of Fresno after the hearing.

Last night's meeting was given over to a hearing of the attorneys and tax agents who represent the railroads.

One of the principal points developed was the admission by Professor Plehn, on behalf of the state, that the basic rate of $1.1336 for property at large, which the legislature of 1913 attempted to equalize the corporation taxes, was too high by more than three and one-half cents. During the discussion he declared it was his belief that the proper basic rate was $1.102 and in this figure the railroads were correct.

In order to arrive at the new rates, figures were presented to show that during the past two years, the taxes paid by property at large in California have increased 10 per cent, which brings the present basic rate to $1.21. On this basis, the new corporation rates have been worked out.

RAILROAD ACCEPTANCE.

Plehn's announcement followed an address by Warren Olney Jr., who appeared as spokesman for the Southern Pacific, Western Pacific, Santa Fe and Northwestern Pacific railroads.

"So far as the railroads I represent are concerned we have no objection to the fundamental principle as laid down in the governor's message that the corporations should pay at the same rate as the people at large," said Olney.

"They make no objection now to an increase on the rate of 4.75 per cent which they now pay, but we do not believe by any means that the railroads have been getting any the best of it."

"The time is so short now to arrive at a sure adjustment of the true proportion, and we suggest to the legislature that some means be taken whereby the next session of the legislature have a true and fairly accurate conclusion."

"The most important particular in which the 1913 examination that yielded the basic rate of $1.1336 was in error was that no sufficient allowance was made for very large values in personal property that were not included. With the railroads everything tangible and intangible including their personal property was fully included."

Burke Corbet, representing the Pullman Company, said that although his corporation had been subjected to many financial burdens it was willing to take the same broad stand as the railroads.

PROPOSES STATE PENSIONS.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 13.—The pensioning of officers and employees of the State hospitals at Napa, Stockton, Agnew and other places is provided for in a bill introduced by Assemblyman Bismarck Bruck of Napa. A board of state officials is to be created to administer the act.

New State Department of Agriculture Planned in Assembly Measure

By Associated Press. SACRAMENTO, Jan. 13.—Co-ordination of all departments and branches connected with the agricultural bureau of the state under one responsible head, is proposed in a bill introduced today by assemblyman Arver of Riverside. The principal departments that would be abolished under the act are:

State agricultural society, state horticultural commission, state dairy bureau, state board of veterinary medicine, state board of sheep commission, state board of viticultural commissioners and the state superintendent of weights and measures.

The functions of the abolished department would be the province of the bill brought under three general heads, namely:

Department of animal industry. Department of horticulture. Department of economics.

The superintending head of the system shall be known as the secretary of agriculture. He shall be appointed by the governor at a salary of $7500 a year. Department heads are to be selected by the secretary under civil service rules, and preference will be given present employees.

The bill is the most important measure yet taken up at this session. In view of the important representative present and farmers will hold a meeting in San Francisco during the coming legislative recess to discuss its provisions with a view of endorsing it or suggesting changes.

TO PROTECT BEARS.

By Associated Press. SACRAMENTO, Jan. 13.—Upon the premise that bears in California are being indiscriminately slaughtered because they have no protection from the guns and traps of hunters, Senator Shreiner of Yreka introduced a bill today to forbid the hunting of bear from June 1 to October 1. All setting of deadfall traps or pits to trap bear is forbidden and no steel trap larger than a number four may be used. Where it is shown that bears have committed depredations, sufficient to warrant it, the fish and game commission shall prescribe the sentence of death.

TO INVITE PRESIDENT.

By Associated Press. SACRAMENTO, Jan. 13.—President Wilson will be invited to address the Legislature during his visit to California. Assemblyman Conrad introduced a concurrent resolution today inviting the President to be invited to Sacramento by his tour of the two California positions.

women had their dresses and hats torn as the crowd rushed for the doors. No one was seriously hurt.

PENNSYLVANIA SUFFERS.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 13.—Reports today from the storm-swept sections of Pennsylvania and New Jersey show that considerable damage was done by high winds, while in many places the heavy rain caused rivers and creeks to overflow. Today the high water was rapidly receding.

The Schuylkill river in many places was out of its banks and caused considerable damage. Textile mills in this city were closed because of water in their basements.

In the northern parts of Pennsylvania railroad traffic was impeded by deep snow.

Exposed places in Atlantic City were again damaged by high water from the ocean. The music hall on the ocean end of the steel pier, which was weakened during the storm last month, was further damaged today by high seas crashing against it.

The derailment of the Washington-New York express at Perryville, Md., last night, resulting in the death of the engineer and injury to the fireman was due to the locomotive hitting the roof of a box car which had been ripped off by the wind ten minutes before the passenger train came along.

FURY IS UNABATED.

BOSTON, Jan. 13.—The storm which swept over New England yesterday attained its maximum strength off the southeast coast at dawn today, causing much damage in Rhode Island and Connecticut.

Many telephone and telegraph wires were crippled, and transportation by land and sea was hampered. Summer residences on Cape Ann were badly damaged. Damage was reported also at Nantucket, Cohasset and other points on the south shore.

The rain which came yesterday and continued at intervals throughout the night was the forerunner of a different storm from that which hovered over California on Monday. Coming from the west, the predecessor storm moved with great rapidity, and, according to present indications, will cause continued showers tonight and tomorrow. The storm was freakish in nature, touching Red Bluff, Oroville, Oakland and San Francisco, but missing Sacramento. At 5 o'clock this morning the capital city was receiving its first trace. The heaviest rain fell on Mount Tamalpais, where the gauge measured 7.6 inches. The precipitation at San Francisco up to 3 a. m. was .25 of an inch.

STATE TO AID BLIND.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 13.—A California Commission on the Blind, of five members to be appointed by the governor, to study the problem of blindness, and to make recommendations for the education and special training of blind children and special industrial training for blind adults, is the object of a bill introduced today by Senator Beban of San Francisco. An appropriation of $12,000 is asked, the commissioners to be unsalaried.

TO GUARD DUXBURY REEF.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 13.—A reminder of the disaster that overtook the coasting schooner Hanaui on Duxbury Reef, Martin county, on November 22, when twenty of her passengers and crew were drowned, was brought to the Assembly today when a joint resolution was introduced by Assemblyman Kennedy of San Francisco memorializing Congress to provide for a life-saving station in bluffs overlooking the reef. It was stated that the lack of a nearby life-saving crew was responsible for the heavy loss of life.

FOR MONTEREY HARBOR.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 13.—An appropriation of $200,000 to be used toward the construction of a breakwater in Monterey harbor in accordance with the plan reported by government engineers a few years ago was introduced today by Senator Campbell. It is contingent upon an appropriation of $400,000 by Congress. A similar state appropriation was voted by the legislature in 1911, but lapsed in two years.

TO INVITE PRESIDENT.

By Associated Press. SACRAMENTO, Jan. 13.—President Wilson will be invited to address the Legislature during his visit to California. Assemblyman Conrad introduced a concurrent resolution today inviting the President to be invited to Sacramento by his tour of the two California positions.

Shot Through Heart, Sends Four Bullets Into As- sailant.

Westwood, Jan. 12. Deputy Sheriff Ray Bogart of this town said and killed Dan Collins in the town jail after Collins had shot Bogart through the heart.

"The above being the facts," the bullet-stricken Bogart and Bogart's death, probably not more than one second. Bogart drew his revolver and fired four bullets into Collins' body. Both men died almost simultaneously.

"The above," started Collins, who was known as "Happy Terrence," for a liberal selling of liquor. This is a dry town and he was charged with the crime of selling a quart of running a blind rig.

Bogart found that Collins had been to the jail and had a bottle of liquor.

When Collins returned, the evidence with him. Bogart arrested him, but failed to find the bullet.

Bogart conducted his man to jail and was about to lock him in when Collins turned back. The bullet passed through the upper part of the heart.

"The above," Bogart, with a tremendous effort, snatched his own weapon from his pocket and fired four times at Collins. Every one of the shots took effect.

Mayor Mott's Proud Record

For ten years Frank K. Mott has been mayor of Oakland. He will not be a candidate for re-election, a regrettable circumstance. Under his wise and able guidance this city has advanced commercially, has expanded to a degree satisfactory to the most sanguine of its citizens and has developed a civic spirit second to no municipality in the great west.

As a result of his incumbency there has been brought to the government of Oakland a high standard of efficiency, completeness has been made a qualification for deputies holding office and only the ablest men and women have been selected to manage internal affairs. Improvement has been the watchword and advance has been continual.

A review of the municipal achievements of Mayor Mott discloses much of that which might be designated sentimental and more of that which is understood as material. Sentiment counts but little in the general ensemble of official record. The public wants results in concrete form. To recapitulate all that Mayor Mott has accomplished would be repeating his report in another portion of THE TRIBUNE. But allusion can be made to some specific instances wherein Oakland has largely benefited and for which credit is largely due the man. For example:

During the administration of Frank K. Mott the municipal control of the entire waterfront and tidelands has been secured and the ownership, in doubt for half a century, has been vested in the people. A municipal system of wharves has been established, which with additions in the future, assures the permanency of Oakland as a port. Additional territory has been acquired, public parks have been developed and playgrounds for children established. Water rates have been reduced and car fares to annexed districts have been cut to a degree enabling people to get transportation at reasonable price. New sewers have been built, the police and fire departments have been enlarged and made more efficient and many other public services have been benefited. A great city hall has been constructed and a wonderful auditorium is about to be completed.

It may be said that that natural growth accounts for increase in wealth, but at the same time it must be remembered that administration of governmental affairs have their effect in the enlargement of municipalities. When Frank K. Mott was first inaugurated, the wealth of Oakland was $51,656,242. Now it is $141,691,150. This increase is due in a large measure to the conservative, but at the same time progressive policies of the city administration of which he has been the head.

So much for the material work Frank K. Mott has accomplished. Adverting to the sentimental, or rather the moral aspect, what then? Under his administration the city of Oakland has become clean.

Oakland owes a debt of gratitude to Frank K. Mott. His dedication to become a candidate once more should be and will be received with regret universal in character. He has been an executive sans peur et sans reproche and when future generations shall sum up the achievements of those who have laid the foundations of greatness, the name of Frank K. Mott will be found graven on the stone that in those days will be the head of the corner of all that Oakland has constructed.

To the carping critics who have been barking at Mayor Mott's heels for the past year, let his answer be the proud and splendid report of his stewardship which he has today presented to the people of Oakland.

Mayor Mott has been the only real constructive mayor this city has ever had. The big things he has accomplished for the Athens of the Pacific will endure and future generations will say that he was truly a great executive.

Real Benefactor to Humanity.

Charles Martin Hall, who died a few days ago, deserved more than the passing mentions given his transition. For he was one of the men who did something of great value. No, he was not the inventor of a machine gun by which soldiers can be mowed down as grass, nor did he devise a gun of penetration sufficient to go through many inches of chilled steel armor, or destroy cement fortifications. But he made aluminum cheap, and that is one of the greatest achievements of modern times. Further, he paved the way for making it cheaper, for which humanity will some day recognize him by fitting tribute.

Hall understood chemistry. His father also understood it. The son reading an old book owned by his father chanced to read that aluminum was the most abundant metal in the world, and the only thing needed to make its use more extensive was a process for its extraction from the other elements, at that time considered enormous. In this connection it may be stated that as recently as 1855 this metal was worth ninety dollars the pound. Now it is eighteen cents, due to the discoveries of Hall, who, by the way, was confirmed in his contentions for letters patent by former President Taft, then a federal judge.

As a result of cheapening in price, aluminum has become a very common article, especially in kitchen ware, in the manufacture of automobiles and in other arts. It is light, practically non-corrosive and when added to steel it is claimed it makes it stronger and better adapted to certain uses.

So far as its future is concerned, no less an authority than Edison has predicted that the time will come when aluminum will be used, not only in the construction of dwellings, but in the furniture used in the dwellings and in nearly everything required to make the home pleasant. Other authorities have accorded it a place in other lines, such as the manufacture of railroad cars and coaches and their furnishings, although this idea is little short of an adaptation of the Edison idea.

Hall perfected his discoveries at the age of twenty-two and for many years was actively engaged in spreading their knowledge. From the first there was a steady decline in price until the figures stated were reached.

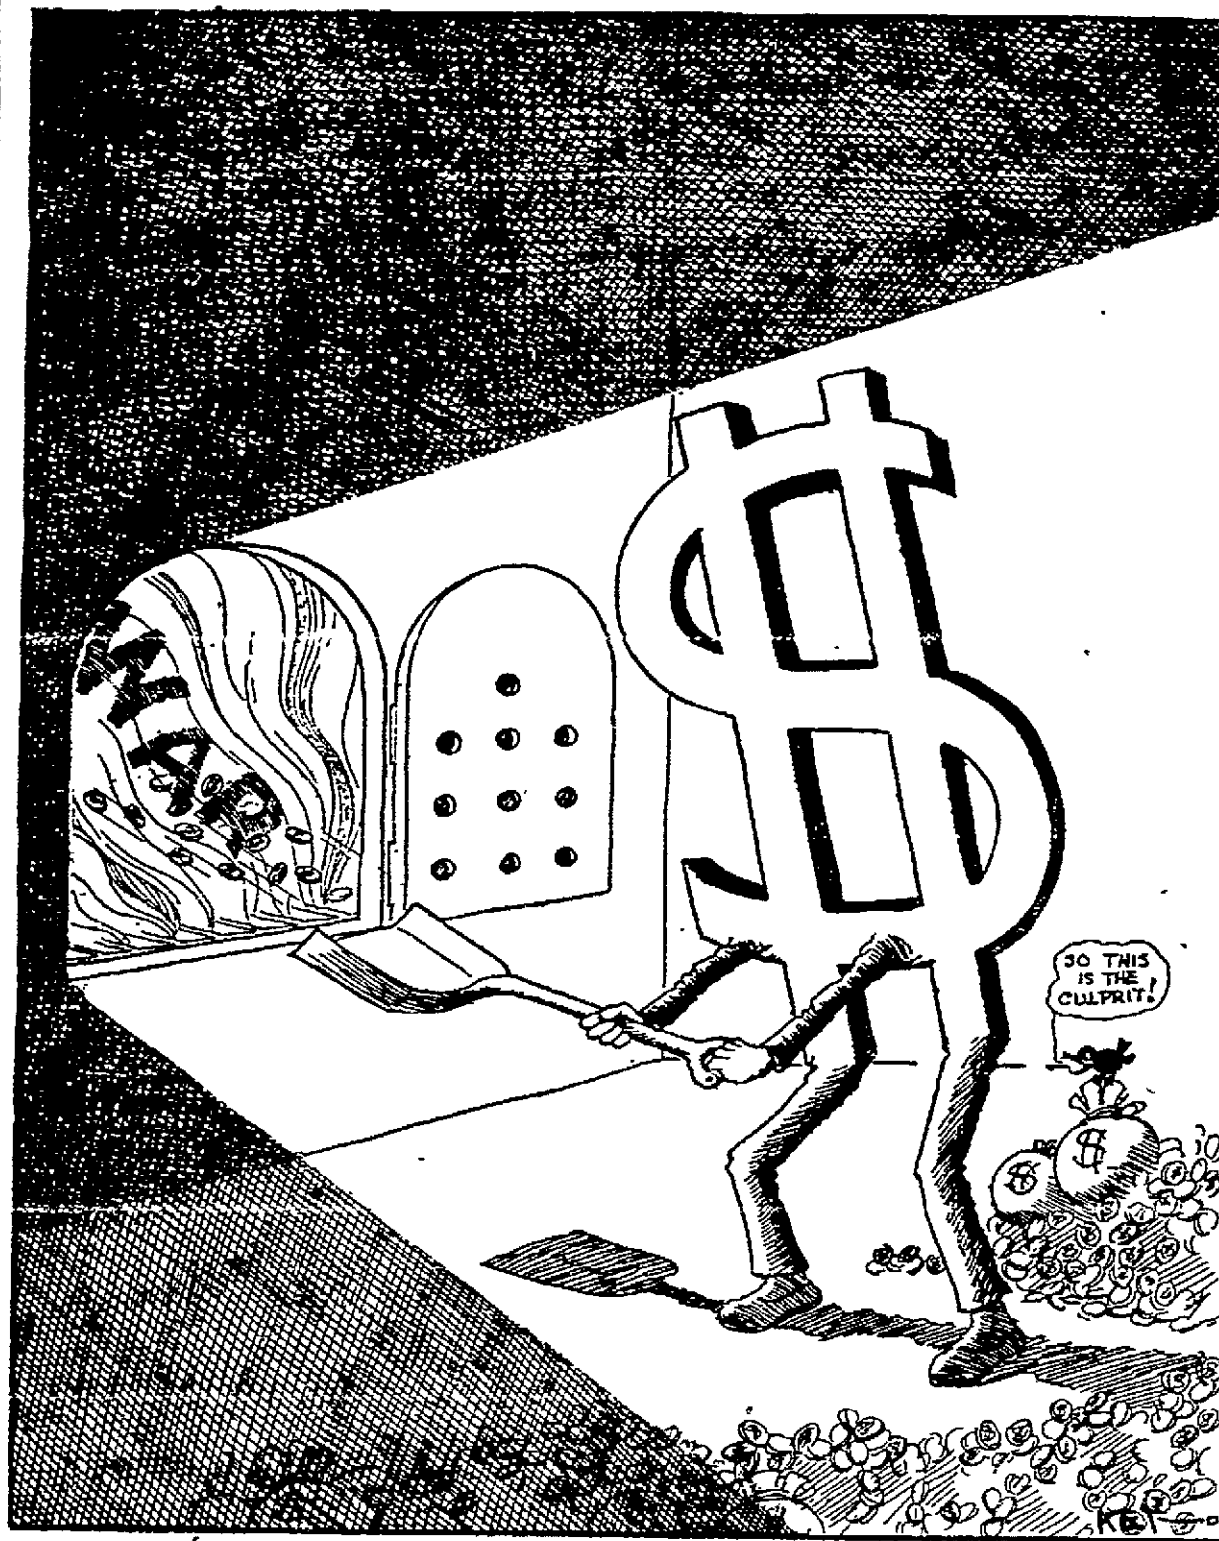

The importance of the man's work may be cited when it is stated that the supply of aluminum is practically inexhaustible. Every clay bank carries it; it is omnipresent, so to speak. When it shall have dropped to a figure close to the price of iron it will be universally used, for, as lumber supplies diminish, aluminum will take their place.

Surely a man who has wrought such a good work ought not die and be forgotten in a short time when the destroyer of a city, or the man who sinks an opposing fleet lives in song, story and marble.

Closely following the return of Medill McCormick to the Republican party he is quoted as having said that he sees the colonel as the possible candidate in 1916. Thank goodness he did not say probable.

THE STOKER

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY.

Secretary George Kaufman of the Board of Public Works has on recommendation of the Board of Examination been granted a high school certificate entitling him to teach in that institution.

Last night Recorder Spear dined all the new and old clerks of his office under Red Church, at Barnum's restaurant. There were an even dozen present, including Messrs. Church and Alvin of the district attorney's office.

Sheriff White appointed William Gregory a special deputy sheriff. Justice E. Y. Lawrence, the newly elected Justice of the Peace in Brooklyn township, held court in place of Judge Cliff, who has not yet returned from the East. Judge Shaw of Berkeley, who was filling the latter's place, was unable to attend court.

The articles of incorporation of the S. H. Chase Lumber Company were filed in the County Clerk's office.

The subscribers to stock are S. H. Chase, S. H. Day, P. W. Craig, J. A. Chase and J. E. Chase.

Constable John F. Cronin of Oakland township has appointed Orrin Page and William L. Teague deputy constables. Constable Gus A. Koch, also of Oakland township, has reappointed J. E. Walton. Constable H. W. Von Kappf of Alameda has sworn George T. Morris in as a deputy.

The newly installed officers of Oakland Lodge, No. 252, Independent Order of Daniel R. Smith, are as follows: Morris Hays, president; E. Bernstein, secretary; M. Jonas, treasurer; George Samuels, monitor; A. Cohen, assistant monitor; J. Isaacs, guardian; D. S. Hirschberg, H. Davis and A. A. Jacobs, trustees. The installation was conducted by District Deputy George Moenacher, assisted by Past Presidents M. Marcus and Jacob Kirschner.

WANTS NO TAX ON OLEO.

At last a congressman has summoned up sufficient courage to introduce a bill repealing that law providing for a tax on oleomargarine. And we are proud to say the congressman is a St. Louisian, Michael Gill.

Why should there be a tax on oleomargarine? The industry is not sufficiently great to provide a large source of revenue from the tax, and under the tax, one of the otherwise potent factors in the reduction of the high cost of living becomes absolutely impotent. To manufacture oleomargarine and pay the tax upon it precludes the possibility of selling it much cheaper than butter and making a fair profit. It's a case of too much government again. Oleo manufacturers will not live up to the law, and the oleomargarine plants make necessary a spy system which is not in keeping with dignity, and which is all too costly in comparison with the importance of the issue.

If oleomargarine is wholesome under a tax, then it is so without a tax, says the St. Louis Times. The tax does not destroy the impurities, if there be any, and inspection might be made without taxing the commodity even with less difficulty than under present conditions. It is to be hoped the bill will receive careful consideration.

MR. BEAVER COMES BACK.

It seems strange and certainly is very interesting to know that there are in the Adirondacks today, chiefly on State lands, no less than about 2000 beaver. It is not many years since the animal was reported to be practically extinct in that region, but the legislature appropriated a few dollars ten years ago for restocking and the result is that the beaver abounds.

In some cases he has become a little too tame and inclines to use fruit trees for dam purposes, but there is little of that to complain of. The great point is that the animal is becoming common in that region and it will not be long before beaver skins themselves shall be a steady source of income to the state, not on a great scale of course, but on a reasonable one, declares the Buffalo News.

Besides, it is urged by the Conservation commission that the beaver serves a good purpose in many cases, building his small dam, creating ponds where otherwise there would be but a barren gully, and adding in that way to modify and improve the atmosphere and to furnish also ponds for fish as well as the fur for the trapper.

The work done by the Conservation commission is one that will be warmly approved through the state.

IT MEANS 'NEUTRALITY'

The avoidance of words of foreign origin is a well-known form which patriotism takes in Germany. Since the war broke out this tendency to use sound German words instead of foreign importations has been accentuated. The dislike of French and English words in Germany is considerably more pronounced than the English refusal to drink any beer that has not been brewed in Holland.

The latest example of the verbal patriotism of the Germans is significant. "Neutrality" has been discarded and its place taken in official documents by the fearsome compound "ohnesettigkeit." The Germans may well have reasons for avoiding a word so steeped in tragic associations as neutrality. This reminds one of the effort of the scholar with strong views on the importance of using pure Anglo-Saxon words in English.

SUFFICIENT EXCUSE

Some time ago a hobo called at a suburban home for food and was promised a good dinner if he would assist in cleaning up the lawn. Being hungry, the hobo acquiesced, and was put to work carrying soil in a wheelbarrow.

"Say," remarked the gardener smilingly, after watching Willy get away with two or three loads, "do you always juggle a wheelbarrow like that?" "Surest thing on earth," answered the hobo. "Anything the matter with my performance?"

"You are not hooked up right," returned the gardener. "You ought to push a wheelbarrow and not pull it." "I know," admitted the tramp with a long-drawn sigh, "but I can stand the sight of the cursed thing."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

The Important Question

When the British attacked Washington in 1813 all the congressmen had to leave the city. Of course, they came back later.

MEAT OF THE FUTURE

The following is taken from an editorial in the current issue of Farm and Fireside:

"We have learned to speak of the breeding of rabbits with some contempt. But in Germany rabbit-growing is an increasing business, and the demand for rabbit meat has tripled the price in five years."

"Dr. Roebinger, an eminent scientist associated with the German Agricultural Association, has published an analysis which shows the flesh of the rabbit to be the most nourishing of all meats. The rabbit resembles the sheep in the fact that his coat is a considerable element in his value. Rabbit fur is very extensively used as a substitute for the names of ermine, mink and the like."

"It took the Americans several years to acquire an economic status as to both flesh and fur, but it has now become established. We may expect the rabbit to do likewise in time."

FOUND CLEW IN PIGS' FEET

A detective's business is to put two and two together and to get four out of it. Two city detectives heard yesterday that William Henry, 721 East Tenth street, had invited a lot of his negro friends to a "chittlin'" dinner last night. By itself, according to the detective's method, that fact had to signify something. Coupled with the fact that Elmer Schwab, 452 Elmwood avenue, had lost a white pig the night before, the fact took on a sinister meaning. They investigated. In back of Henry's house they found two pigs' feet with white hair on them. So they gathered up the remains, the ham, the bacon, the snout, the tail and the feet and brought them down to police headquarters. William Henry came along, too.

Schwab came into court this morning. "I can't identify the ham," said Schwab, viewing the remnants in court. "I can't identify the bacon, I wouldn't know for sure that the snout belonged to my pig, but I know for certain that those are my pig's feet."

Henry was turned over to the state and a charge of grand larceny was brought against him.

Meanwhile the ham, the bacon, the snout, the tail and the "chittlins" remain in the hands of Leo Mullin, police department property clerk. Schwab got the two feet, but he couldn't identify the rest, and the police will have to hold it—at least until it is decided that it is unwise to hold it in an unrefrigerated safe any longer.—Kansas City Star.

EVILS OF CENSORSHIP.

It would seem as if a well controlled system of field correspondents were necessary; indeed, the amount of news sent in by special representatives of American newspapers shows that, despite European military autocrats, the American reporter has been able to get to the front and to mail uncensored stories to this country to delight his managing editor.

The writer is inclined to believe that as the war progresses the restrictions will be loosened rather than tightened, as they have been in Germany (illustrated by the publication, on November 30, of an interview with the German crown prince); that the military leaders will feel the need of the moral support that comes from an enlightened and intelligent public opinion, that they will realize that the only basis for genuine mutual confidence between the military and the public is absolute truth-telling, whether it be favorable or unfavorable, by those who control the news; that public and army are interwoven in their best interests.

A powerful factor in bringing about this change should be a realization of how the several belligerent countries are being hurt by the false information, the cruel and misleading rumors that appear about them abroad, which can, in the long run, best be overcome by full and frank statements, both from official and unofficial sources. That any censorship may well be doubted, since it is at best founded on suppression, deceit and concealment, however justifiable that may be in wartime.—Oswald Garrison Villard in the American Review of Reviews.

IS VITALITY DIMINISHING?

We are told by scientists that the swift social and industrial pace in the United States has reduced the vitality of Americans to a point far below the standard of Great Britain and other nations of Europe. We do not seem to know that, for we are always puffing ourselves up with expressions of our superiority. There is a tendency in this country to look down on the European and yet he has sense to take care of himself better than we do over in this country.

The cause assigned to this discrepancy is too much society and too much business. We are wearing out our nerves on them. We make society and business ends instead of means. The two, however, go together—money and style, wine and women, and down hill we all go together.

But the "social and industrial" doesn't care for disease or death. It keeps right on making the vitality weaker every year. What have become of our hospitals, our new specifics, our war on microbes and the drinking cup, our athletics, our vacations, our pure food, etc., and all those devices for preserving our vitality? Cannot they resist the devastating effects of our industrial and social pace? It begins to look as if the only way is to cut out society and stop making money.—Ohio State Journal.

WHY EAST PAYS MORE.

Eastern newspapers continue to charge that the income tax is unjust because it falls more heavily on the wealthy Eastern and Middle states than on the poorer Western and Southern states, declares the Portland Oregonian. They close their eyes to the fact that the income tax amendment was adopted for the express purpose of enabling Congress to impose the tax in proportion to wealth of the individual and of the corporation without regard to state lines.

The income tax is equitable because it requires each citizen to pay in proportion to the service rendered him by the government and in proportion to his means. Since certain necessities which practically everybody uses in almost equal proportion are taxed by the tariff, the poor man unavoidably pays a higher proportion of his income in tariff taxes than the rich man. The income tax is designed to even things up, and that is its effect.

Because that is the purpose and effect, a larger proportion of the income tax is paid by citizens of the rich states than those of other states. This is so, not because of discrimination by the law between states but because of discrimination by fortune in placing a larger number of rich men in some states than in the others. The law was designed to and does correct discrimination among men, regardless of states, in the incidence of taxation.

MANXMEN HAVE OWN LAWS.

The decision of the Manx House of Keys not to raise "the duties on beer and tea serves to remind her English neighbors that the Isle of Man has a code of laws entirely its own. The island has never been ruled by the laws of England, and although parliament reserves the right to make any imperial enactment applicable to the Isle of Man, the privilege is seldom or never exercised without consultation with the Manx people, says the Chicago Herald. These happy islanders have no armed forces to maintain, no income tax, death, estate, or stamp duties to pay, and their customs dues are in most cases on a lower scale than in the United Kingdom.

Manxwomen, too, have special privileges. Every female adult, widow or spinster in the Isle of Man, whether she be owner, occupier or lodger, has a vote for the House of Keys elections. Every widow enjoys half of her husband's personal estate and has a life interest in his real estate, and she cannot be deprived of this by will. Her written consent must be obtained to all transfers, and deeds affecting her husband's property. On the other hand, no married woman can legally possess in her own right either money or property in the Isle of Man; she can have no separate estate unless specially protected before marriage, and can make no will without the leave of her husband.

FOUR HAVE NO BIRTHDAYS.

Minnie, Joe, Cella and Willie Stein, 1704 Paseo, never have had a birthday anniversary.

A dozen years ago when the Steins lived in Denver, the family Bible was lost in a fire. Papa Stein is too busy at the grocery store to keep track of birthdays and Minna Stein's memory never was good, says the Kansas City Star.

So when Minnie, 16 years old (estimated), insisted on knowing the day she should celebrate, mamma would say, "Oh, in August I think; about the sixteenth, or was it the twenty-sixth?"

Minnie is not at an age where she cares to forget it. So last week she wrote to the city recorder of Denver in the hope that the natal dates of the four Steins might be concealed somewhere in the official records of the municipality.

"And he hasn't answered my letter yet," she said last night.

"None of you ever had a birthday?" a reporter asked, incredulously.

"Oh, we don't believe in birthdays like you mean, parties and all such," she explained, "but I would like to know just for curiosity."

Nathan Stein, father of Minnie, Joe, Cella and Willie, has a grocery at 1498 East Eighteenth street. The family came here a year ago from St. Joseph, where they had lived since they moved from Denver.

THOSE HAPPY DAYS

One of the changes which the passing years have brought into being in America is emphasized in an account book one hundred years old. According to the entries, the owner bought veal at four cents the pound. Beefsteak sold for three and four cents the pound. Chickens sold for as low as fifteen cents apiece and you could buy a goose for twenty-five cents. Eggs varied in price from six to ten cents the dozen. Tea was bought by this early American at 51 the pound and another entry shows that a bushel of salt was purchased for $16.

Candles cost him from 37 1/2 to 57 1/2 cents the pound. There was no excess of light in even the best of homes in those days. Mistle for the good wife of the house cost fifty cents a yard and a quantity of calico cost seventy-five cents a yard. One very significant feature was the number of entries in which a gallon of whisky or rum accompanied the order. The spirits cost twenty-five cents the gallon.—Columbus Dispatch.

BLOW TO CHIVALRY

One chivalrous Hutchinson man was nearly cured of his kinder intentions toward the helpless recently and although he still believes in extending kindness wherever he can, he makes certain it will be welcome.

He was making a trip and when he arose from his seat he noticed a little woman struggling with a number of children and trying to herd a half dozen calves out of the car. Lifting his nose he proffered his services and came as near falling as a man ever does when he replied in a shrill voice that was easily audible all over the car:

"I about say I won't let you help me. I was warned against just such men as you."

And the Hutchinson man slunk out of the car without another word.—Hutchinson Gazette.

LAY OF THE CACKLE

The cockish lays a million eggs. While the helpful hen lays one. But the cockish does not cackle. To inform you what she's done. And so we learn the cockish covey. But the helpful hen we prize; Which indicates to thoughtful minds It pays to advertise.

WASHINGTON GOVERNOR RECOMMENDS NEW LAWS

By Associated Press.
OLYMPIA, Wash., Jan. 13.—Governor Ernest Lister's message was read before the legislature in joint session yesterday. The message calls attention to the enormous increase in the cost of government.
Bonds have been issued in the state for county, municipal and other purposes, amounting to more than $100,000,000, the interest charge being $5,000,000. The likelihood of paying off the bonds when they become due is remote.
The governor believes the only method of securing reduction in public expenditures and simplification of government machinery will be by a constitutional convention, which he commends. He also recommends enactment of a preferential presidential primary law and a non-partisan election law covering all county and city offices.
He asks an appropriation $50,000 for enforcement of the liquor prohibition law, effective next January.

ATTORNEYS CONFER ON PROPOSED OIL SUIT

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 13.—Willis N. Miller and James C. Crawford of the United States Attorney-General's office arrived in this city yesterday from Washington and were in conference throughout the day with Special District Attorney-General E. J. Justice in connection with the suit soon to be commenced in Los Angeles for the recovery of 5100 acres of alleged oil lands in the Elk hills region in Kern county.
Despite the setbacks administered by recent decisions of the United States Supreme Court and by District Judge Marston T. Douglas in this city in all the cases involving title to the contested oil lands, the special prosecutors are extremely confident as to the outcome of their case. By an arrangement made six months ago Federal Judge Robert S. Bean of Portland, Ore., will preside at the hearing of the suit.

DICTIONARIES GO LIKE HOT CAKES

Tribune Coupon Offer Brings "Wise" Book Lovers Who Sense Bargains.

Today is Dictionary Day. Come early and avoid the rush of the wise ones who will seek to take advantage of THE TRIBUNE offer of a new Modern English Dictionary, for one coupon clipped from this paper and a small expense bonus.

Judging from the number examining the volumes during the last few days, they will go like the proverbial hot cakes. So far the flexible black leather binding style has made that type of book the favorite.

"It looks like a Bible," is what they all say. The comment is justified, as the book is made up of the best print on the best Bible paper. In fact, as the work is almost indispensable, the dictionary should be placed beside the Bible on every bookshelf.

A dictionary of such common sense size and compiled in such a comprehensive manner is just as indispensable to the business man as the telephone book or the city directory.

It is not how much knowledge you have, but how much you use that counts in your work, and it is the same with books. You might have the latest dictionary or cyclopedia in the world, but it would not do you as much good as the dictionary which THE TRIBUNE offers its readers.

The volume is small enough to keep constantly at your elbow and you will use it ten times the once you will cross the room to consult the big dictionary on the stand or table.

A well known business man explained yesterday why he was clipping the coupon. A visitor noticed that he was preparing to secure the New Dictionary and expressed his surprise, as he had a big dictionary in his office.

"I want that flexible leather dictionary," he said. "It's the handiest book of the kind I've ever seen and the most complete. Do you know most people don't realize how many new words are added in our language every year. This book is up-to-date and I need it in my business. It's dollars to doughnuts that I'll use it 10 times as much as I ever did the bulky one." This TRIBUNE book is a Carnegie library at your elbow.

If you have not started clipping already, start now.

VETERANS SEE SECRETARIES.
By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Mandamus proceedings began in the local courts yesterday against Postmaster General Burleson and Secretary Daniels by civil war veterans, discharged from the civil service, who contend the law forbids their discharge while their records are good.

FATHERS TO BE GUESTS AT SCHOOL RECEPTION.
FITCHBURG, Jan. 13.—The fathers of pupils attending the Lockwood school will be guests of the Lockwood Parents' and Teachers' association at a reception in the school building Friday evening, Jan. 22. On the entertainment committee are Mrs. Cole, Mrs. Handel and Mrs. Anderson.

The last meeting of the association, Mrs. J. McCutcheon was elected secretary in place of the late Mrs. Fyritz. The association decided to hold a business meeting the first Friday of each month and a social meeting the third Friday. Mrs. L. O'Leary had a surprise in store for the members at the last meeting, serving dairy refreshments prepared by her in honor of the association's fifth anniversary.

A dedication of the new Lockwood school, it was stated, would probably take place some time in April. On account of wet weather the laying out of the school grounds will probably not be completed before that time.

CLUB OFFICERS NAMED.
VALLEJO, Jan. 13.—At an enthusiastic meeting of the Solano Motorcycle Club held at its clubrooms in Marin street, last night, the following new officers were selected: President, Herman Meyer; vice-president, W. H. Denney; secretary-treasurer, F. E. Donovan; captain, George Hellerman; lieutenant, Grant Fleckinger.

FALLS NOT HURT.
VALLEJO, Jan. 13.—Mrs. Catherine Moran, janitress at the Jefferson school at the corner of Carolina and Sutter streets, fell 12 feet through a window of the school Thursday and escaped with nothing more than a wrenched left arm and bruised hand.

TELL ENGAGEMENT.
VALLEJO, Jan. 13.—William Sappril and Miss Gladys Glenio of this city have announced their engagement. The wedding will take place in the spring.

BOATS ON DUTY.
MARE ISLAND, Jan. 13.—The submarine boats K-3 and K-4 left the Puget Sound naval station Monday in convoy of the ocean-going tug Itouquois for Mare Island.

MARE ISLAND NOTES.
MARE ISLAND, Jan. 13.—Some of the lieutenant-commanders commanders and captains on duty at the Mare Island navy yard have been charged since this year by naval paymasters who pay them their salaries. The tanker Maunee will be launched at Mare Island on or about March 15 and the hull department officers propose to build at least four steel coast barges at the collier building shop.

The navy collier Nanahen, now at San Francisco, will come here this week to load on supplies for the cruiser Raleigh and the gunboat Yorktown.

It was stated at Mare Island on good authority that an industrial manager will be ordered to the local naval station.

Major F. M. Hanson, U. S. M. C., now on duty at the Mare Island marine barracks, has been assigned to duty as a member of the navy yard coast-marine band.

The navy collier Nero is reported to be on her way to Mare Island for a general overhauling.

Rear Admiral Robert M. Dyer, U. S. N., commander-in-chief of the Pacific reserve fleet, will reach the age limit in May, and it is understood that he will leave Remerton the latter part of April to make his home in Mare Island.

The navy collier Hector has been ordered to proceed to Remerton.

POVERTY INCREASED BY WAR, SAYS JORDAN.
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 13.—"The maiming of thousands of able-bodied men in war and the burden of their support falling upon their relatives are but one of the results of war that enormously increases poverty the world over," said Dr. David Starr Jordan, Chancellor of Stanford University, last evening in a lecture on "War and Poverty." The address was given at the Civic Center rooms on Post street, for the Associated Charities.

The speaker pointed out that war respects no classes and hits the rich and poor alike, and that the end of every war finds well-to-do families thrown into poverty.

WAR NURSES PETED.
By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Miss Mabel T. Boardman, head of the executive committee of the American Red Cross, presided at a luncheon given by the Japanese Society of New York yesterday in honor of the unit of Japanese Red Cross nurses and surgeons which sailed today for the war zone. "They say that east is east and west is west, and never the twain shall meet," said Miss Boardman, "but they meet today under the flags of the Japanese and American Red Cross Societies. Japan may be proud of having the largest Red Cross society in the world, its membership amounting to 1,891,000, a hundred times greater than ours and with a permanent endowment ten times as great."

Mysterious Midnight Performer Seen by Towerman Has Police Guessing.

FRUITVALE, Jan. 13.—The spectacle of a well-dressed man diving himself of a portion of his clothes, subsequently dancing around in the glare of an electric lamp and then racing off down the tracks towards Oakland in a shower of rain was witnessed at the Fruitvale station by Pacific depot towerman this morning by Francis Ellison, a tower man. So far the police have been unable to clear up the mystery of the midnight dance and spring.

Ellison rushed from the tower thinking the man meant to commit suicide, but the stranger "disappeared" in the darkness running at full speed towards Oakland.

Officer P. J. Connolly of the Melrose police station was patrolling in the vicinity and Ellison told him what he had seen. The officer started off in pursuit but failed to find any trace of the man.

Lying in the Southern Pacific depot where he had done some of his work, the stranger's coat, derby hat, and an overcoat which are now in the hands of the police. The condition and quality of the garments show their former wearer was well dressed and probably well-to-do.

The police believe the man must have been either a maniac or that his actions were the result of his being drunk. Search was made this morning in the vicinity of the Southern Pacific tracks all the way into Oakland but no evidence was found which would help to clear up the mystery.

About 1:10 this morning towerman Ellison saw a tall man in long overcoat standing in the depot. Taking a heavy look around as if to assure himself there was no one about, the stranger tossed his hat on the ground and threw his overcoat and coat. Then he suddenly commenced to dance around the depot. Headless of the fact that it was raining, the men sped around and around the depot as though on a practice spree.

When he had circled around about a dozen times he ran across the tracks in the direction of Oakland.

Ellison did not have a good view of the man and could not give a detailed description of the mysterious dancer.

ARMED MEN ROB AND WARM VICTIM.
Taking His Money, They Order Him to Make Himself Scarce.

SAN LEANDRO, Jan. 13.—Manuel Leal, of Esterbrook street was held up and robbed at the point of a revolver by two masked highwaymen on Washington avenue near Thornton avenue, last night.

He was on his way home at the time when the two men came upon him on the sidewalk and ordered him to throw up his hands. They relieved him of $2.50 in money. After going through Leal's pockets one of the old-time racketeers, a prod in the back with his revolver and told him to get on his way quickly.

Leal took the advice and his assailants disappeared in the other direction.

FITCHBURG IMPROVES HEAR OF PLAYGROUNDS.
FITCHBURG, Jan. 13.—The Fitchburg Social and Improvement Club at its last meeting heard talks by J. Nash, playground superintendent, and W. N. Erickson of the street department. Nash explained the plans for the playground of the new Lockwood school, which will be the club's best equipped recreation grounds in Oakland. Erickson talked on street work in Fitchburg. Refreshments were served at the meetings.

The club will host a barn dance at its headquarters, 727 East Fourteenth street, to which many friends of the club members have been invited.

Rain Pelts Peas on Hillside and Peeves Farmers

HAYWARD, Jan. 13.—Jupiter Pluvius is a good friend of the California farmer. He knows, as a rule, when he's a welcome guest and when he'd better keep away. Farmers who own pea crops on the southern slopes of the Hayward hills, however, have it in for old Jupiter with a vengeance. Hundreds of young peas washed off by the roots by the storm of rain tell the reason why.

The storm of rain which descended in the valley Monday night wrought considerable damage among the peas on the hillside. Otherwise the farmers have not sustained any loss on account of the storm. Plowing operations, however, have been suspended for a week and prospects are that the ground will not be sufficiently dry to resume plowing for some days yet.

The creeks are still keeping within bounds and farmers who own land in the vicinity of Alameda creek and its feeders are beginning to hope there will be no repetition of the flooding which caused such damage throughout the countryside in the spring of last year.

IDEALIZES KIPLING

S Dick Helder in "Light That Failed" He Wins Triumph.

Stepping from the tragic Shakespearean role of the night before to a more modern, though, perhaps, no less tragic one, a picture of perhaps more delicate analysis than even that of the Melancholy One, Sir Johnston, Forbes-Robertson, at the Macdonough, showed another subtle phase of his art in Kipling's remarkable narrative, "The Light That Failed."

"The Light That Failed" tells a simpler story than, perhaps, the noted actor has been wont to play. In the book it was known how. In the play these delicately as only the master hand of delicate touches are retained and predicated with the finer touches that result in another great artist. Just as Paderewski, playing the symphonies of the masters of music, enhances and develops as does Forbes-Robertson, with his infinite starcraft and consummate development, from Kipling's hero a character so fine that even Kipling himself, perhaps, was surprised when Dick Heldar, the nature of his brain, first stepped before him in the body of the noted actor.

The sparkling flashes that have been seen in the remarkable delineation of the remarkable character. It is not a mistake, perhaps, of course. It is just Kipling and Forbes-Robertson, both at their best.

Mary Sumner, as "Maise," offers a delineation of character admirably matched with that of the great English actor. In every scene she supports him admirably, acting as responsible for much of the play succeeds in.

The company presenting the piece does in itself proud in the remarkable play. Ian Robertson, as Torpenhow, friend of the actor, has a role that he handles with consummate skill, and Percy Hargreaves, as "Fordham," also presents a clear-cut character, as the representative of a modern man. Among the other clever actors who aid in the production of the masterpiece are Emma Griffin, Adeline Byrne, Joan Hickitt, as the model, and Daphne Wheeler, as the women in the clever play. The play will be repeated tonight and Friday night.

Settled waterfront controversy of fifty years standing, and recovered waterfront to the people.

Inaugurated a municipal system of docks, quays, wharves and belt-line railways.

Commenced development of Key Route basin.

Completed wharves there and wharf and quay wall construction in the inner harbor.

Extended city limits westerly to San Francisco line, so as to include the railway moles and tidelands.

Annexed forty-four square miles of territory and two hundred miles of streets, making a total within the city limits of five hundred and twenty miles.

Developed system of public parks and playgrounds and acquired many park sites.

Dredged Lake Merritt and reclaimed many acres of swamp south of Twelfth-street dam.

Reduced water rates to municipality 35 per cent and to private consumers 27 per cent.

Established a public museum of great educational value.

Inaugurated civil service in city government.

Secured adoption of a new city charter.

Installed electric and modern gas-lamp system of street lighting.

Erected city hall, municipal auditorium and modern school buildings.

Organized municipal woodyard.

Established Women's Protective Bureau.

Last year the pergola at the northeast end of the lake, which had been completed at a cost of $17,000, and was named because in the early days it was an embankment before the city street was laid out. The lake, small boats used to wind their way up through the sloughs and land there. This year the city has completed a new pier, completed at a cost of $35,000, relieving the shore line of the old boat houses which stood for so many years on Twelfth street. Under the pier, a city boat, on the lake has become wonderfully popular.

LOST LAND RECLAIMED.
South of the lake is Perla park, nearly thirty acres. It is the site of the magnificent municipal auditorium, nearing completion. Its location at the lake shore is not only convenient as a center for the city, but it also affords excellent possibilities for land-use development. Among the notable features of the park are a large park, eleven acres, and containing a natural grove of superb trees in great variety. Bushrod park, 17.5 acres, previously owned by the late Dr. J. H. James, has more than justified itself in the service to the people, both as a park and a playground. De Fremery park and the entire scheme of the city, an excellent example of wise selection. So the lake might be taken in detail, each place described and found desirable.

OUR URBAN LAKE.
The great collection is Lake Merritt, which occupies water park in the heart of the city, accessible from every section and surrounded by walks and drives, grassy and tree-lined, and the charming Lakeland park along its northern borders. Nearly every foot of the lake shore is now owned by the city, and the entire scheme of the city, an excellent example of wise selection. So the lake might be taken in detail, each place described and found desirable.

NEW PARKS ACQUIRED.
In the early years of the present administration many pieces of land were acquired for park and playground purposes. Notable among these were: Park De Fremery park, Pine Knoll, Perla park, the Willows, and the Glen at the northeast end of Lake Merritt. In 1905 the city acquired the site of the new charter, and the preparation and placing under maintenance of this new park, which is now the largest single park area owned by the city, known as Ingersoll square for many years, and now called the Golden Gate. It is true that the public squares were acquired by purchase and gift, but no special attempt was made to improve them.

BEGIN PARK PLAN RESULTS GAINED
Thoroughly convinced that our people's best interest could be served, their health and happiness benefited, their comfort, convenience and pleasure enhanced, it was deemed wise by the administration to adopt a policy of park development as the outset of my administration. That policy has been adhered to through the ten years last past. It was a policy confirmed as proper and beneficial by leading experts in city development who were invited to assist in planning for the future.

The city of Oakland has not only progressed ethically but has also made an enormous gain through increased values of the lands purchased. While this is an interesting and important phase of the park situation, it is by no means the vital thing. The real gain to the thousands upon thousands of people who have had the use of these parks and will continue to delight in their many attractions.—From Mayor Mott's message.

MAYOR PRONOUNCES VALEDICTORY
MESSAGE PREDICATES RETIREMENT

In closing this record I can only reiterate my profound gratitude to the people of this city, my sincere appreciation of their confidence and my wish for the continuance of the program of progress which they have long sustained.

To those with whom I have been associated in these years I have thanks to give for their support and co-operation. My experiences in public life have been happy ones. I have realized in the city's development some of the dreams of my youth and young manhood. When I looked forward to an Oakland which should stand foremost for the things that make for good citizenship, for better conditions, moral and material, in the community.

I shall leave the mayor's office with satisfaction in the thought that my labors in the public service may have contributed somewhat to the welfare of my city, to the well-being of my fellow citizens, and to the upholding of civic righteousness in the conduct of public affairs.

tained by the city under the control of the board of library directors.

The city's collection of books and manuscripts, which was acquired from the collection of the city's noted ethnological collection, formed by Walter B. Bryant and purchased through the efforts of Miss Bertha Chapman, then a teacher of nature study in the Oakland public schools, are now in the hands of the city's board of library directors.

The city council was persuaded to assume some responsibility for the embryo institution, and by charter amendment the museum was formally placed under the direction and control of the board of library trustees. C. F. Wilcomb was appointed curator and assumed his duties of that position in April, 1909.

The board of public works set aside the old Josiah Stanford mansion, on the western corner of Lake Merritt, as a repository for the collection, and this was afterward fitted up for exhibition purposes. It was opened to the public on October 1, 1909, and has since that time been a popular place for the collection, and this was afterward fitted up for exhibition purposes.

LARGE GROUPS.
Departments of history, ethnology and natural history were well developed; the specimens were systematically and artistically arranged, and the collection was made up of scientific and popular information, so as to appeal both to the eye and the understanding of every observer.

MORE SPACE NEEDED.
Additional space was given four new exhibition rooms, and one lecture room, and still the museum is in need of more space and altogether more room.

The museum has built up a field for itself in the educational work of the city. Teachers and pupils make frequent visits to the museum, and the museum is a place where the children of the city can learn about the history and science of the world.

TRACTION OFFICIAL ON THE JITNEY BUS SERVICE

President Weeks Declares More Stringent Regulations Should Be Placed in Proposed Ordinance

In reply to an inquiry from the representative of THE TRIBUNE, Mr. G. K. Weeks of the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railway, said: "There is no truth in the rumor that this company threatens to reduce expenses by cutting off a number of employees solely for the purpose of affecting public opinion. The situation facing us is a simple business one and merely an extension of a few words. If we only take in one dollar we cannot spend more than that dollar; the result being that if our revenues are reduced naturally we will have to take whatever measures are necessary to meet those conditions."

"The jitney bus proposition is but a small and very likely a temporary phase of a very large problem, i. e., adequate public transportation in the congested centers of population, and it can be wisely handled only by considering it in its proper relation to the entire problem."

"The transportation systems of our cities are either operated by the municipality or are granted to private corporations under franchises which subject the carrier to public regulation and ordinarily to the payment of a very considerable proportion of earnings into the public treasury."

SCHOOL SITE MAY REQUIRE ELECTION

An election in the Alameda district, to allow the voters to decide, according to the state law, which of two sites shall be used for a school playground, will probably follow the refusal of the board of education, made last night on the subject of the proposed site for the new school building, to accept the site recently purchased for the school, running parallel to the length of the school lot instead of across it. Under the plan proposed, the school building would be on the lot recently purchased, and the playground on the lot recently purchased for the school, running parallel to the length of the school lot instead of across it. DETECTIVES PUZZLED BY BAREFOOT BURGLARS

"Barefoot Burglars" Daring Crimes Said to Be Caused by Insanity

BERKELEY, Jan. 12.—Are the detectives of the "barefoot burglar" thought by the local police as well as the houses in this city every winter since 1907, due to a strain of insanity on his part or are the robberies committed with the ultimate intent of gain for the value of the stolen goods, or are the deeds committed for excitement? The question is the subject of constant study by the Berkeley police as well as several uninterested persons. The case of the "barefoot burglar" is one of the strangest ever before encountered by the police department.

The demand for proper glasses is increasing every year for two reasons: First, more work is demanded of the eyes than formerly; second, the people now realize that they are better fitted for their duties if they have good eyesight. VICTIM OF APHASIA CANNOT RECALL NAME

Apparently a victim of aphasia, an aged unknown man was picked up by the police last night wandering about in the vicinity of Grand avenue. He was taken to the emergency hospital, where he is held in hope of identification. The ingenuity of the hospital attendants was taxed in an endeavor to ascertain his name and address, and, according to the statement of Steward Davidson, they had tried every known language on him, when he was rescued by a man who understood, but declined to sign that he was unable to remember where he lived or what his name is. The man is about 75 years of age, and dressed in laborer's clothes. He had absolutely no means of identification on his person.

Umpire Finney Is Sold for 60 Cents

CALEXICO, Jan. 12.—Umpire Finney of the Coast League was once sold for the staggering sum of $4.00. What's more, Finney is game enough to tell the story on himself. He was behind the bat for Fort Scott in the Kansas League in 1908. The team had not been given sufficient support and it was decided to disband it. The manager of the Fort Scott team went down to Coffeyville, now famous as Walter Johnson's home. The Coffeyville manager made a daring proposal to the Fort Scott manager. He offered to pay the Fort Scott manager the price of his railway fare for a single choice of the Fort Scott players. He chose Finney. The ticket came to $4.00.

BASKETBALL

Santa Rosa high school's quintet was added San Rafael High to her long list of vanquished. On Friday the San Rafael boys won with the idea of winning Santa Rosa off the basketball map but by half time the score stood 12-15 in Santa Rosa's favor. At the end of the game the score stood 25-23 in Santa Rosa's favor.

It was a good game all the way through. Charles Hewitt, Santa Rosa's captain, starred for Santa Rosa. His guard was a good one but could not stand up to "Chop" Myers, also starred for Santa Rosa. Santa Rosa's line up was: Frie and Hewitt, forwards; Richards, center; Myers and Matthews, guards and Presley, sub.

Santa Rosa High has not lost a game this season. They have played ten games so far and are anxious for more.

Buddy Ryan Traded for Roy Moran

Walter McReddie has at last disposed of Buddy Ryan, his outfielder. Although Ryan has over 250 last season, McReddie became tired of the curly-haired slugger, and it was established that Ryan would not play for the Portland club another season.

Ryan has been traded to the Salt Lake team for Roy Moran, also an outfielder. Moran is a fine fielder and can always find his way around the bases, but he can not come up to Ryan's standard in hitting. Ryan hit about .278 for the Sacramento-Mission crew and he may hit much better with the Bears.

Both players wanted to get away from their former teams and they figured to profit by the change.

PHOENIX 1915 TEAM LOOMS UP IN FINE STYLE

There is an abundance of baseball material at St. Mary's college and prospects are bright for the 1915 Phoenix team. Although Ryan has over 250 last season, McReddie became tired of the curly-haired slugger, and it was established that Ryan would not play for the Portland club another season.

THIS IS VERY SAD, IF IT'S TRUE

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Jim Fynn, the Pueblo fireman, broke his left wrist and Al Reich, former national amateur heavyweight champion, sprained his right wrist in their ten round bout in Brooklyn last night. Fynn's accident came in the second round and Reich's in the third, but they fought on, using their other arms defensively. Reich has the better of it until his wrist was sprained and made a wild rally in the tenth, using the injured hand for several effective blows. From the fourth to the ninth inclusive Fynn outpointed Reich. Fynn weighed 187 and Reich 200 pounds in the Northwest and the Pacific coast.

In all probability Manager Youmans will hold up all negotiations for the coming year, so far as Washington is concerned, until the California students pass upon the issue before them.

WILL MEAN THE END OF RUGBY

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., Jan. 13.—The universities of Stanford and California will cease to meet in athletic competition unless their representatives agree regarding the eligibility of freshmen for the varsity teams.

California has issued an ultimatum to Stanford declaring against the participation of first year students, and Stanford has insisted that freshmen be allowed to compete.

The leaders at both universities have expressed themselves as determined in their respective stands and the matter will be voted upon by the students next Wednesday. The intercollegiate agreement which bound the two universities has expired and the representatives appointed to draw up a new compact have failed to agree.

If Stanford and California should sever athletic relations it would mean the end of Rugby on the Pacific coast, as the annual game between the two colleges is the only thing that now keeps the British sport alive.

California will probably meet Washington at American football and Stanford can enter the field with Southern California.

EXIT OF RUGBY IS AWAITED BY WASHINGTON

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON, Seattle, Jan. 13.—The athletic authorities of the University of Washington would welcome any action the University of California students might take in respect to dropping Rugby as a major sport and adopting the American football.

Word has been received here that the students of the southern institution will soon vote upon the subject of adopting the American game in lieu of the English game owing to the conditions which seem now unsatisfactory in the field.

"I am confident," said General Manager Youmans today, "that we would gladly consider a broadening of our athletic field to include California institutions should they vote out Rugby to take up football. The attitude, however, would not be influenced by any difficulties we are now experiencing in the Northwest conference in respect to schedule making, but would be the attitude of extension of the field alone."

"As it is, we have athletic connection with California in crew and track, although the latter is not a big factor with us. I think California's adoption of football would be a great boon to the sport."

BOXING

New Orleans fans are smoking up over a new light weight, Benny Palmer, who is described as a full-blooded Mexican, born in Arizona, and reared in California. He is being backed by Ben Smith, brother of Robe Smith, once a prominent middleweight.

Out of twenty-three contests he has scored seventeen knockouts, two draws and four wins. His last victory was a clean cut win over Eddie Reese, stablemate of Johnny Dundee.

"RUBE" GARDNER AS A POTATO MAGNATE

EL CENTRO, Jan. 13.—With but two games a week to play, some of the players in the Valley league have carried their winter frugality a point further.

Rube Gardner bids fair to become a potato magnate. As a spud salesman for E. W. Vessery & Co., Rube covers the valley, and his business like appearance belies his bucolic appellation.

Tennis By Nelson G. Welburn

At one of the most enthusiastic meetings held in the history of the Oakland Tennis club, which convened in the office of Stanley James Smith last night, all phases of tennis were thoroughly discussed, with particular consideration to the formation of a junior's club, to be run in conjunction with the Oakland Tennis club. Elaborate plans were scheduled for inter-club matches with outside towns.

Secretary Edwin Mastick Otis' annual report showed the club to be in a prosperous condition. In all probability the Oakland club will conduct upon its courts the Oakland city championship and Alameda county championship tournaments.

The following officers were elected to serve for the term of 1915:

Frank W. Frost, president; Stanley James Smith, vice-president; Edwin Mastick Otis, secretary and treasurer.

Directors: Paul W. Dimmock, Harry H. Haight, Dr. Mark L. Emerson, Frank W. Frost, Stanley J. Smith and Edwin M. Otis.

Tournament and publicity committee: George W. Frost, president; Edward A. Klein, Nelson G. Welburn.

Grounds and house committee: Raymond S. Jones, Charles S. Slickner, Ed. Mastick.

An informal banquet was enjoyed, 25 members in attendance. The "Racket" quartet raised quite a racket by singing a number of selections. Extensive speeches were made by the newly elected officers and members of the committee.

Construction and maintenance committee: Nelson G. Welburn, president; Charles S. Slickner, vice-president; Edwin Mastick Otis, secretary and treasurer.

Gold medals for our national tennis champions! A good plan and one that should have been adopted long ago, and perhaps would have been had financial conditions warranted. But why, as the committee having the matter in charge suggested, resort to the singles and doubles champions, meaning thereby the male champions only? If we have a full list of championships, as we do, we should treat all the winners alike. The increased cost of 5 medals (for singles, men and women, doubles, men and women and mixed), would not be so great that we should hesitate on that ground alone. So why differentiate? As to making the award of medals retroactive, let us consider that matter more carefully also. If Richard Norris Williams, second, received a medal would we not be remiss in failing to award one to Maurice Z. Larned and on down to Richard D. Sears. Is it a question of the cost? Is the question the American Lawn Tennis Association desires answered? The answer, with its balance of $30,000, ever that question. If we do anything let us do it in a large way, and in keeping with the times and the race, and men.

We agree with you in that respect, American Lawn Tennis. When we consider anything let it be of the highest order.

ROMANCE OF HOSPITAL IS FAST-MOVING

Young Physician Finds Bride in Apron and Cap

THE service set at Mare Island and Yerba Buena, where Admiral Osterhaus and his family were stationed, a fortnight ago announcing the marriage of one of the sons, Dr. Carl Osterhaus, to Miss Elizabeth Currie, in New York.

Later news has been received and now the romance is described as the romance in the Osterhaus family. It was "love at first sight," which, it seems, may be found in real life as well as in the fancy of Robert Chambers or in a moving picture play.

The announcements were conventional, but the story of the romance has found its way through the "wireless" of gossip and gossip—perfectly polite and pleasant gossip, it is understood.

Young Mr. Osterhaus, hero of the romance, was appointed surgeon at the Sea View Hospital, Staten Island, early in December. His first case was an operation and Miss Currie, in the trim uniform of blue and white muslin with a crisp muslin cap on her head, was the patient's nurse.

Dr. Osterhaus noticed her quiet efficiency at once, and when the patient was properly cared for he noticed her grace and charm. His fast was sealed, as the romance writers say.

Two weeks from the day they met Dr. Osterhaus and Miss Currie were married in New York.

There wasn't time to tell relatives and friends until the ceremony was over. Then the groom's people in Washington were amazed by sudden telegrams.

There were no wedding guests and the bride and groom returned to spend their honeymoon at the hospital. They are still there as physician and nurse—and honeymooners.

CLARK ASHTON SMITH.

Clark Austin Smith, a lad still in his early teens, writes poetry and has already received recognition from eastern publishers and magazine editors, who have read his poems. Clark is an inspired poet, and only pens his thoughts, where most poets only think of them. There are a number of youthful poets who have been successful in having their poems published. Charles Earl Birnbaum, eight years of age, collected a number of his poems and has placed them in a volume called "Poetic Genius." The book is now being circulated among his playmates.

DON'T TRUST YOUR MIRROR

By LILLIAN RUSSELL

(Copyright, 1915, by Lillian Russell)

LOOKING from the faces of the majority of women one might say that they trust but one mirror. Now that mirror may be placed in a bad position. It may throw a flattering light on one side of the face, leaving the other side in shadow. It may have a yellow cast or it may have a blue shade. Perfect mirrors are rare, so caution should be exercised in the original selection. Place your head against the mirror in a good light, then observe the hair and its reflection in the glass. Notice the different colors different mirrors will cast upon the hair. The glass scales and that nothing is more exact than the same color as the hair and you will have a true idea of the color your face will assume when reflected to you.

So far, so good. The mirror must then be placed in a perfect light directly in the middle of a window or between two windows, with even light on both sides. A southern light is best, as it is soft and does not get the direct sun rays.

If you use powder you should always carefully examine your face after putting it on. Do not dab it on without looking at yourself while you are doing it. A four-laden nose is ridiculous. The powder should be put on smoothly in order that it may not appear like make-up.

We see women pull out a powder box, take the puff and dab it all over the face without looking at herself, leaving blotches of white around her nose, on her chin and eyelashes. I have seen some women powder without lifting their veils. Of course their veils are filled with powder.

A woman cannot consult her mirror too often if she uses a little darkening upon her eyelids and rouge upon her cheeks and lips. It is more difficult to look at than a made-up woman with evidences of her artificial beautifying still upon her face.

Answers to Queries.

J.—For reducing the bust, mix thoroughly three grains white vaseline, and ten drops essence of peppermint. Pat on gently, then cover with oiled silk. Gentle massage with spirits of camphor is sometimes helpful. However, the massage is essential. However, any vigorous exercise that involves the muscles of the chest will help to reduce the bust. Avoid eating all rich pastries and foods.

Mary—I do not see why the cream should cause your face to break out after using it for such a long time with excellent results. Are you sure the last cream you had made up was mixed with the proper ingredients and that the ingredients were perfectly fresh? And, too, are you sure the cream is not too old? No cream is perfectly good if it stands for a long time. If you care for my formula for skin food I shall gladly send it to you upon receipt of a stamped, addressed envelope. This is an excellent cream for a dry skin and I am sure it will help you. This cream is absolutely pure and is the best cream I know of. I have used it myself for over twenty years.

A reader—This is an excellent exercise for reducing the legs and thighs. Lie flat on your back on the bed or on the floor, with the hands on the hips. Draw the knees up as far as you can, then kick forward with a good, vigorous kick. Repeat this about ten times to start, increasing as the muscles become more supple.

Amy—I am sorry, but I cannot give you a remedy for eczema. It requires the attention of a good physician, and I would advise you to consult one at once.

QUERCULI SOCCER TEAM REORGANIZES FOR WORK

The Querculi soccer team of Golden Gate has been re-organized for the season and the squad is practicing to meet the various teams of the city. The lads enjoyed a series of contests and accepted many challenges from the teams of the bay cities. The Querculi team was engaged in Rugby and basketball games.

The dramatic and glee clubs were organized last year and the talented members of the society gave a number of entertainments and the boys say that they are now preparing original programs to be presented during the winter months.

Next summer they will resume their hikes and tug rides, which proved to be attractive features of club life. The amusement committee with R. Surgeon as chairman, is arranging the schedule for the spring activities.

Mr. Fearish says that one reason why he had a happy New Year was because he didn't owe anything for Christmas presents.

Combing Won't Rid Hair of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger-tips.

Do this tonight and by morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work—Advt.

LILLIAN RUSSELL

L. M. N.—Sometimes poor health will make your hair do the wrong thing. Perfect health? Blonde hair must have good care in order to keep it bright. Don't put anything on your hair to lighten it. Massage will help wonderfully. Massage your scalp with a good hair tonic each night before retiring. Brush your hair at least 100 strokes a day. The massage will loosen the scalp, and the hair will receive more nourishment, and in a short time your hair will become brighter and more glossy. A tight scalp will make the hair dull and cause it to fall. Are you sure your scalp isn't tight? Try to move it with the tips of your fingers. If it does not move easily this is the cause of your hair becoming dull and lifeless, and massage will remedy this condition. If you will send me a stamped, addressed envelope I shall send you formula for hair tonic with directions for scalp massage, blackhead treatment, and formula for eye wash.

Miss G.—I am sorry, but I cannot give you a formula nor the name of a good rouge. There are many good ones on the market. Any druggist will recommend one to you. You might go into a reliable hair dressing parlor. They usually carry this article, and probably would give you a good one. I cannot give names of proprietary articles through my column.

Jess—Yes, henna does give a reddish tint to dark hair, but makes light hair red, but I cannot give you a formula for it. It is a dye, and as dyes are harmful to the hair and scalp, I neither recommend nor give formulas for them.

Mary—Castile soap usually agrees with all skins. It is pure and can be used for the face. Try a good rice powder. You can buy it at any reliable drug store.

C. P.—Always before massaging, bathe parts to be massaged with warm water. Warm water opens the pores and the cream is absorbed, but cold water hardens the flesh and closes the pores. Before massaging the neck, bathe in the warm water for about ten minutes, then rub the cocoa butter into it.

M. A.—One or two drops of bluing in the last rinsing water is all that is necessary when shampooing white hair. This should be added to the last rinsing water. Only, of course, if the water was made too blue, the hair would have a bluish tint to it.

San Francisco, Jan. 13.—Arthur G. Lyon, attorney, has a few suit cases full of cement—and they cost him $500.

James W. Brown, formerly a convict, is out of prison and luxuriating in a bed in the German hospital.

Brown was sentenced to four years in San Quentin for passing fictitious checks. He sought Lyon's aid. He told Lyon that he had a number of death; that he had $100,000 in Government bonds buried in the basement of a house in Los Angeles, with $25,000 accumulated interest.

The lawyer appealed Brown's case, got him out of prison and into a $4 per day room in the German hospital—and secured a full description of the location of the "treasure." He went to Los Angeles and paid $500 for the privilege of excavating the cellar and dug up cement only. Meanwhile bills are piling up against Brown, with no treasure in sight, and they can't put him back into prison yet.

PRINCE TO SHOW 'EM 'RAG.'

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 13.—High-reaching boughs of ironwood trees, gloomy tropical glades and the sun-scattered sands of Siam will soon quiver and echo to the crocodile music of the fox trot. The Prince and Princess of Siam took with them from San Francisco a new-found agility for the modern dance and one thousand records of dance music. They will teach their 50,000,000 subjects how to "rag."

WOULD STOP GRAFT.

DES MOINES, Ia., Jan. 13.—Gov. Geo. W. Clarke characterized the present methods of employing legislative help as pure graft in his address before the second session of the thirty-sixth general assembly yesterday. He pleaded for reform in court procedure, declaring the idea of punishment for crime belongs to a past age.

WOMAN, EXONERATED, DANCES IN COURTROOM

Grand Jurors Find Her Innocent of Charges

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—After listening for three days to the brisk stories of the married life of John C. Tatum, the wealthy and middle-aged cotton broker, and his wife, Mrs. Mary Jane MacArthur Tatum, the Nassau county grand jury decided today, after five and a half hours of squabbling, that Mrs. Tatum was guilty of none of the indiscretions charged by her husband and accordingly refused to grant Mr. Tatum the divorce he craved.

At various of human emotion during the Nassau county grand jury decision, the Nassau county grand jury decided today, after five and a half hours of squabbling, that Mrs. Tatum was guilty of none of the indiscretions charged by her husband and accordingly refused to grant Mr. Tatum the divorce he craved.

She even bestowed a delightful smile upon her husband, Mr. Tatum indicated in no way that he noticed the smile.

HE WILL APPEAL.

His lawyer, Terence MacManus, declared he was positive there was something wrong with the verdict—so positive that he would importune the Appellate division to reverse the decision.

"Fortunes of war, that's all—fortunes of war," snapped Mr. Tatum when asked what he thought of the verdict. "I am not a fortune teller," he said, "but I am a fortune teller."

After Justice Crane's forty minutes' charge in which he directed the jury to answer "No" to counter charges brought by Mrs. Tatum, they left the court room at 11 a. m., and returned an hour or two later to ask whether they find for the plaintiff if the defendant had the opportunity but not the inclination to do wrong.

"No," replied Justice Crane. "You must first show that there was something wrong with the verdict—so positive that he would importune the Appellate division to reverse the decision."

The jury retired again and immediately they began to wrangle so loudly that the betting changed from 3 to 1 for a verdict for Mr. Tatum to even money on a disagreement.

VERDICT APPLAUDED.

Justice Crane informed the Jurymen as time wore on that he did not wish to influence them at all, but that he would discharge them unless they brought in a verdict by half-past 4.

The verdict was rendered at 4:25. A few groans, a lot of "Bless-hers-and-hearts," a little volley of handclaps from the North Shore delegation over in the corner, and a chorus of "Hallelujahs" greeted the unexpected words of Mr. Smith. Mrs. Adele Robinson, who advised Mrs. Tatum the apartment at No. 10 West 42d street, said that her friend into her arms and they wept in union.

Mrs. Tatum had nothing to say except that she was "glad to hear the verdict." A "freakish ordeal," and that "it would give her an opportunity to go back to her husband, which she wanted very much to do."

"Not a chance of a reconciliation," declared Mr. MacManus, and Mr. Tatum had "nothing to say."

"If you find her guilty you are not to find what excuses or what temptations induced her to do it. You are to give her another chance."

Max Steiner, Mrs. Tatum's counsel, filed an exception to the entire charge as unfair.

ENGLISH WOMEN URGED TO AID ENTERTAINERS

LONDON, Jan. 13.—London newspaper editors print the following advertisement from the War Office:

"Four questions to the women of England: 1. You have read what the Germans have done in Belgium, have you thought what they would do if they invaded England? 2. Do you realize that the safety of your home and children depends on our getting more men now? 3. Do you realize that the one word 'Go' from our King and country? 4. When the war is over and your husband or your son is asked: 'What did you do in the great war?' is he to have his head because you would not let him do his duty? Do you, do your duty. Send your men today to join our glorious army. God save the King."

Convenient Terms If Desired

The STROUD PIANOLA contains the wonderful METROSTYLE, the device for controlling tempo and imparting the correct interpretation. The device consists of a red line marked on the roll and a movable pointer on the instrument. The marking was made by a master musician as the composition should be played. Simply follow the red line with the Metrostyle pointer, and, measure by measure, the selection is played with the correct tempo and the proper interpretation.

The STROUD PIANOLA has other superior devices—the THEMODIST, which automatically brings out the melody or theme clear above the accompanying harmonies—Also the GRADUATED ACCOMPANIMENT, the AUTOMATIC SUSTAINING PEDAL, and a score of other exclusive patents and improvements.

The STROUD PIANOLA possesses an exceptionally full and melodious tone, a quick and correct action; the case of mahogany or oak is the latest design.

Notwithstanding the small down payment and the small installment payments, if you already have a piano, we will accept the same in part payment, allowing liberally for it.

Pioneer Newspaperman of San Leandro Passes Away Suddenly.

SAN LEANDRO, Jan. 12.—Western P. Truesdale, pioneer newspaper man of this city and son of the late Dr. Truesdale, was found lying dead across his bed fully dressed late yesterday afternoon by his wife, Mrs. Truesdale, who has not been living with her husband for some time. Last saw him Friday when he called at her home on East Fourteenth street. He then left her to go to a little house he occupied alone at the end of Chumalia street.

From the appearance of the body, Truesdale had been dead about two days before the discovery was made. Indications are that death was due to natural causes. There was nothing to point to his having committed suicide.

During the past week Truesdale had been drinking heavily and it is thought had been attacked by severe illness and had been unable to summon assistance. The remains were removed to the parlors of Deputy Coroner Robert Morgan, where an autopsy will be held.

Truesdale had been in the habit of occasional drinking and the fact that he had not been seen for several days did not cause his friends alarm. Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Truesdale paid a visit to the home on Chumalia street. The door had been unlocked and her husband had been found dead.

Truesdale, who was 51 years of age and had lived here since a boy, was one of the town's best known residents. He started the San Leandro Standard over twenty years ago and although he later disposed of the newspaper, continued as a printer. Besides his widow he is survived by two sisters.

Arrangements for the funeral have not yet been made.

PRELATE'S WILL PLACED ON FILE

Late Archbishop Left Less Than $10,000; Owned Books and Land.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 12.—The will of the late Archbishop Patrick W. Riordan was filed for probate yesterday by the Rev. Fathers Charles A. Ramm and John J. Cantwell, his secretaries, who are named as executors of the estate, which the will states is less than $10,000.

The will recites that the only property owned by the late Archbishop is real estate in Chicago, which was part of his father's estate, his library and Episcopal ornaments.

The realty is bequeathed jointly to the Rev. Daniel J. Riordan and Mrs. Mary A. Lilly, of Chicago, brother and sister of the late Archbishop.

The will, which was filed by Garret W. McInerney, will be probated by Judge Coffey on January 27.

GRIDIRON IS SMOKING FOR PRESS CLUB SHOW

Every effort is being made to have the Oakland Press Club Gridiron show on the current list of the annual show of the club to be given on Sunday evening next at the Macdonough theater. The performance will be the first of its kind ever attempted in Oakland and will include good natured roasts on all of the prominent citizens and public officials. The rehearsals which are now well under way indicate that none of the officials and very few of the prominent citizens will be spared.

The management of the show announces that the greatest combination of amateur and professional talent ever blended together in one performance in Oakland will be shown. Among the professional people who are well known locally are Thomas Henry and Dean Kelly of the old Throth theater, Gary, Winfield Blake and Maude Amber of Fisher theater, Bill Nye of the California Motion Picture Company and such well known amateurs as Al Mazurotte, Lynn and Edmund, Charles H. White, Lynn Williams, Wood, Soames, Grant, Dray, Frank Becker, M. McQuarrie, Frank D. row, L. B. Gross, Winona Queen Andrews, Dora May Howe, formerly of the Alcazar, Beattie Jane Smith, Ruby Lee Clark, Ruth Nichols, Daisy Butler, Sophie Parker and a dozen others.

The play was written by W. A. Curtis, and Eric Brandt and Edward Gage, composer of "Quarter to Four" wrote the music. Special rehearsals are being held daily under the personal direction of Winfield Blake, Maude Amber and Gary. The Gridiron is rehearsing a beauty chorus of forty at the Hotel St. Mark. Miss Amber and Blake are rehearsing the cast of principals at the Hotel Oakland.

INCREASE OF INMATES OF STATE INSTITUTIONS

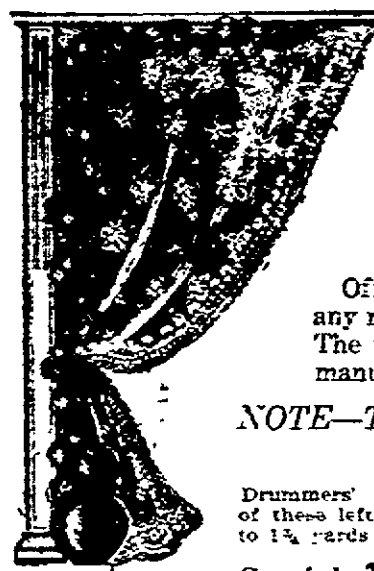

A total of 14,319 men and 12,376 women in the different California state institutions, an increase of 343 inmates over last year, is shown in the report, issued today by the State Board of Charities and Corrections. This total includes both state prisons, and all homes, hospitals and asylums, being the total figure of all institutions inmates wholly supported by the state treasury.

The figures show an increase of 326 inmates in the two state prisons and 478 in state hospitals. The California Home for the Adult Blind shows an increase of 2.

There were 1054 paroles issued by the two state prisons.

SCOTT FILM STORY IS AWAITED BY EDUCATOR

The South Pole and the famous Scott expedition is the topic of interest in educational circles today, following the announcement that the whole vivid drama of the frozen seas is to be witnessed by the teachers of Alameda county as guests of THE TRIBUNE.

The educators and teachers will, at the Macdonough Theater next Monday afternoon and Tuesday evening, hear Charles E. Hanford, noted Shakespearean actor, in his lecture on the ill-fated Scott expedition, with the wonderful moving pictures taken on the trip by Herbert C. Ponting, official photographer of the party.

Invitations were issued by THE TRIBUNE yesterday to every registered teacher in the county, and announcement made that any private-school teacher desiring to witness the remarkable educational films may receive invitations at THE TRIBUNE office. These invitations will be exchanged for seats at the Macdonough box office.

"UNDYING STORY." Robert W. Priest, by arrangement with Herbert C. Ponting, Fellow of the Royal Geographical Society of London, official camera artist of the British Antarctic expedition of 1910, will present the stirring pictorial drama, "The Undying Story of Captain Scott and Animal and Bird Life in the South Polar Regions." There will be a daily matinee and night performance during this engagement.

The inspiring Scott pictorial drama is one of the miracles of the modern world, more miraculous in truth than the mere discovery of the Pole. If Scott had gone, as Amundsen went, merely to dash to the pole and plant the flag and to return to civilization and daze it with the discovery of so brief a moment, and therefore of such little moment, we should not have had this tremendous pictorial drama, but Scott planned his entire journey for scientific purposes.

From sailing of the Terra Nova, Captain Scott's vessel, on her southward trip to the actual location of South Pole, the daily life and adventures of the members of the party are shown and are truly remarkable for their intimate review of the White Silence and its animal and bird life as here shown as never before. One of the marvels is the Antarctic volcano, Mt. Erebus. The mountain is piled layer upon layer upon flat ice fields, a vast heap of formless rock continually rolls from its crater. It is shown in actual eruption and seen around the utter desolation of that land it is almost unreal. The start of Captain Scott and his companions, by the light of the midnight sun, on the journey to the South Pole is shown and they are seen on their daily march through the ice fields, a vast heap of formless rock continually rolls from its crater.
